

FROM HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR ^{TO} TO FUTURE INTERIOR DESIGNER

United Way Southwest Louisiana + AT&T = Impact That Changes Lives

Beauregard Parish

Kyliee, a senior at East Beauregard High School, has big dreams. Next year, she'll attend the University of Lafayette to major in Interior Design—turning her passion for creativity into a career.

What Kyliee didn't know was that her mom had quietly applied for her to receive one of the 50 HP laptops donated by AT&T through United Way Southwest Louisiana. With help from Principal Tanya DeMaskey and United Way SWLA President & CEO Denise Durel, the plan was set in motion to surprise her at school.

When Kyliee's name was called and she was presented with her very own laptop, she was stunned. Tears filled her eyes as she hugged her mom, realizing the gift meant so much more than a piece of technology.

"This is going to help me so much with college," she said, smiling through happy tears. "Now I feel ready for what's ahead."

That single moment captured the heart of why this initiative matters: lifting barriers, unlocking potential, and reminding students like Kyliee that their community believes in them.

Thanks to AT&T's generosity and United Way's commitment, Kyliee now has the tools she needs to step boldly into her future—one design, one dream, one laptop at a time.

"Now I feel ready for what's ahead."

THANK YOU, AT&T!

Your generous donation of 50 HP laptops is helping bridge the digital divide for ALICE families in Southwest Louisiana.
